THE ARBORETUM AT PENN STATE

ROBERT ANDERSON'S
SCULPTURES
IN STEEL
EXHIBITION

JUNE 4 TO OCTOBER 23, 2016

First-ever seasonal art exhibition in the Arboretum

PHOTOS BY JEFF EPPING, OLBRICH BOTANICAL GARDENS

arboretum.psu.edu
facebook.com/pennstatearboretum
Robert Anderson, creator of the popular garden kaleidoscope located in the Arboretum’s Childhood’s Gate Children’s Garden, will display a collection of his larger works in the H.O. Smith Botanic Gardens in 2016. By turns monumental and playful, Anderson’s inflated steel sculptures draw inspiration from the Japanese art of origami. Anderson began his professional career as an artist in 1994, and is based in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin.

SCULPTURES IN STEEL EXHIBITION
IN THE H.O. SMITH BOTANIC GARDENS

1. Poplar Court – Steel Chairs
2. Lotus Pool – Orange Seed Pods
3. Event Lawn – Balloons
4. Pollinators’ Garden – Stems
5. Pollinators’ Lawn – Cranes