

Becky Ault

ART Design Group, located in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, is a subsidiary of ART Research Enterprises, Inc., an art casting and art fabrication company. The artists and designers of ART Design Group, Becky Ault and Mike Cunningham, create several styles of sculpture from contemporary and abstract to traditional and classical in materials such as metals, stone, Lucite, and clay. They are commissioned to produce public art, signs, and monuments by artists, museums, architects, corporations and municipalities around the world.

Becky Ault created the colony of bronze big brown bat sculptures for the Limestone Cave. Mike Cunningham is credited with making the stone animal faces embedded in boulders in the Rocky Ridges section of the children's garden. There are six animal faces in the stone.

Second Image: Becky Ault • Reference: artdesignsculptures.com

This publication is available in alternative media on request.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or protected veteran status.

© The Pennsylvania State University 2017 U.Ed. AGR 17-74